Licensing

Veeam Backup is licensed per CPU Socket ("CPU Sockets") for each Managed Server. For more information, see www.veeam.com/eula.html.

The trial license key is sent to you after registering the product with Veeam Software at: www.veeam.com/vmware-esx-backup/download.html. After registering the product you will receive a trial license key. The trial license is valid for 30 days from the moment of registration.

To obtain a full license key for the desired number of sockets, refer to www.veeam.com/buy-end-user.html

The full license includes a one-year maintenance plan. To renew your maintenance plan, please contact Veeam customer support at: support@veeam.com.

Updating Veeam Backup & Replication License

Starting from Veeam Backup & Replication 5.0, license is managed centrally by Enterprise Manager server. You should not update license on individual backup servers directly, as Enterprise Manager forces its license to all connected backup servers.

To install the new license file to a backup server connected to Enterprise Manager server:

1. Open Configuration > Licensing tab in Enterprise Manager UI, and click Change License.
2. Browse to the license file (.lic) that was sent to you after registration to install the license. To learn more, see the Licensing section.
3. The provided license file will be automatically propagated and applied to all Veeam Backup servers connected to this Enterprise Manager server.

To install the new license file to a standalone backup server that is not connected to Enterprise Manager server:

1. Select Help > License from the main menu.
2. Click the Install license button to browse to the license file (.lic) that was sent to you after registration to install the license. To learn more, see the Licensing section.
